ERIKA VILLA,

Plaintiff,

vs.

GENESIS CREDIT MANAGEMENT,
LLC

NO.

COMPLAINT FOR VIOLATIONS OF 15
U.S.C. § 1692 ET SEQ., 47 U.S.C. § 227,
AND RCW CHAPTERS 19.16 AND 19.86
ET SEQ.

COMES NOW Plaintiff, Erika Villa, by and through counsel, who alleges:

I. PARTIES AND JURISDICTION

1. Plaintiff Erika Villa is an individual who resides in Washington State.

2. Defendant GENESIS CREDIT MANAGEMENT, LLC ("Genesis"), a Washington Limited Liability Company, is a debt collector and collection agency doing business in Washington, and who repeatedly attempted to collect an alleged debt from the Plaintiff. Genesis Credit's registered agent is Crystal Salas, 7100 Evergreen Way Suite C, Everett, WA 98203.

3. Jurisdiction over Defendant is proper as Defendant is doing business in

1 Washington State and venue is appropriate in King County, Washington.

2 II. FACTS

3 Initial Communications With Genesis

4 4. On or about March 22, 2017, Erika Villa received a barrage of phone calls from 5 an unknown number. The calls were as follows:

- 6 a. 9:42 a.m. to Ms. Villa's personal cell phone number
7 b. 9:44 a.m. to Ms. Villa's work phone number
8 c. 9:46 a.m. to Ms. Villa's work phone number

9 5. Later, Ms. Villa's discovered a voicemail on her cell phone number. Genesis left 10 a message and asked for a return call.

11 6. Ms. Villa was very concerned that Genesis was calling her work number because 12 she is an employee of the King County Department of Public Defense and is employed as an 13 Investigator, and her work phone number is for business use only.

14 7. Bowing to the pressure, she returned Genesis' call. There was no answer and the 15 call went to voicemail. Ms. Villa did not leave a message.

16 8. Approximately one hour later, Genesis called Ms. Villa again on her cell phone,
17 but did not leave a message.

18 9. Concerned that the frequency of calls would simply continue unabated, Ms. Villa
19 called Genesis on the following day, March 23, 2017.

20 10. During the call, Ms. Villa specifically told Genesis that her work number was for 21 business use only, and that Genesis should not, and did not have permission to call that phone 22 number.

23 11. While on the phone with Genesis, Ms. Villa learned that it was attempting to collect an alleged debt related to an apartment that she had previously rented.

1 12. Genesis Credit made numerous threats during the call.

2 13. First, Genesis threatened to obtain a copy of Ms. Villa's credit report to determine
3 whether she had an available balance on any of her credit cards.

4 14. Genesis then stated that if an available balance existed that could pay the alleged
5 debt, it would simply commit credit card fraud by charging, without permission, the amounts 6 demanded.

7 15. Second, Genesis threatened to report the alleged debt to the credit bureaus.
8 During this threat, Genesis represented that its reporting would result in lowering Ms. Villa's
9 credit score by 50 to 100 points.

10 16. Third, Genesis threatened to garnish her wages, even though it did not have an 11 enforceable judgment or any lawful way to do so.

12 17. Finally, Ms. Villa asked that Genesis provide documentation to show that a debt 13 was owed.

14 18. Genesis e-mailed documents to Ms. Villa during the call, who asked for time to 15 review her records.

16 19. Genesis threatened that if she did not call back by 5 p.m. that it would initiate 17 litigation against her.

18 20. To date, on information and belief, Genesis has initiated no such litigation.

19 Genesis' Documentation Provided by E-mail

20 21. The documentation concerning the alleged debt at issue is attached as Exhibit A.

21 22. Exhibit A purports to be an invoice for amounts owed by Ms. Villa when she 22 moved out of an apartment at 509 1st Ave. W # 411 in Seattle, WA 98119.

23 23. The document is defective on its face for numerous reasons.

24. First, it purports to assess a “termination fee” equal to two months’ rent. Any such termination fee would violate Washington’s Residential Landlord Tenant Act, and is therefore not owed. RCW 59.18.230.

25. Second, Ms. Villa moved out of the apartment at the end of January 2017.

26. Yet for unknown reasons, Genesis attempted to collect amounts from her related to utilities and fees for the month of February.

27. In other words, Genesis represented that it could collect amounts not owed.

Genesis’ Initial Collection Letter

28. Several days after the exchanges with Genesis, Ms. Villa received a letter from Genesis dated March 21, 2017. The letter is attached as Exhibit B.

29. In the letter, Genesis represented that Ms. Villa owed a total of $2,815.70, comprised of $2,770.16 in principal and $45.54 in interest.

30. Based on the information provided by Genesis via e-mail, this letter could not be accurate, as the amounts alleged were comprised of an illegal termination fee, utilities for time that Ms. Villa did not live in the apartment, and interest on those amounts.

Ms. Villa Disputes the Debt and Instructs Genesis Not to Call

31. On April 4, 2017, Ms. Villa exercised her state and federal rights by sending a letter to Genesis to obtain more information.

32. The letter informed Genesis that Ms. Villa disputed the debt and requested validation, as well as the name and address of the original creditor.

33. Most importantly, Ms. Villa told Genesis that they did not have permission to call her at any phone number, including her cell phone and work phone. She explicitly stated that all communication should be in writing.

34. Ms. Villa sent the letter via certified mail, and it was delivered on April 6, 2017. The certified mail receipt and a printout of the U.S. Postal Service's certified mail tracking website are attached as Exhibit C.

35. It is clear that Genesis received the letter, both by the certified mail receipt and the fact that on April 14, 2017, Genesis responded to the letter. A copy of their response is attached as Exhibit D.

Genesis Doubles Down on Collecting Amounts Not Owed

36. The April 14, 2017 response from Genesis simply restated the same information from previous communications.

37. However this time, Genesis added more interest to the alleged balance owed, and also provided an additional ledger summarizing what was allegedly owed.

38. Again, the amounts alleged to be owed cannot be true, as they were comprised of an illegal termination fee, utilities for time that Ms. Villa did not live in the apartment, and interest on those amounts.

Genesis Continues to Call Ms. Villa

39. Despite Ms. Villa's specific oral and written statements not to contact her, especially at her job, Genesis continues to call both her work and cell phone numbers. Genesis is on specific notice that calls to Ms. Villa's workplace could jeopardize her employment.

40. Since Genesis received Ms. Villa's letter, it has called her on the following dates:

- a. April 7, 2017 to her cell phone
- b. April 10, 2017 to her cell phone
- c. Twice on April 12, 2017 to her cell phone
- d. April 14, 2017 to her cell phone
- e. April 17, 2017 to her cell phone
- f. Twice on April 20, 2017 to her cell phone
- g. April 21, 2017 to her cell phone
- h. Twice on April 21, 2017 to her work phone

- i. Twice on April 26, 2017 to her cell phone
- j. Twice on April 26, 2017 to her work phone

41. On information and belief, Defendant Genesis uses an auto-dialer (and/or has a system capable of making such auto dialed calls) to make collection calls to alleged debtors.

42. As a result of Genesis' actions detailed above, Ms. Villa has had to retain counsel to ascertain her legal rights and responsibilities, which gives rise to expenses.

43. On information and belief, Ms. Villa has suffered damaged credit. Her job has been put at risk, and she has suffered financial uncertainty, unease, and distress caused by Genesis Credit's tactics, which are false improper, and confusing.

III. CAUSES OF ACTION

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL COUNTS

44. With respect to the alleged debt, Plaintiff is a consumer as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(3) and Defendant is a debt collector as defined by 15 U.S.C. § 1692a(6).

45. With respect to the alleged debt, Plaintiff is a "debtor" as defined by RCW 19.16.100(7) and Defendant is a collection agency as defined by RCW 19.16.100(4).

46. For claims arising under the Fair Debt Collection Practices Act, such claims are assessed using the "least sophisticated debtor" standard. Guerrero v. RJM Acquisitions LLC, 499 F.3d 926, 934 (9th Cir. 2007).

47. The discovery rule applies in FDCPA cases. Mangum v. Action Collection Serv., Inc., 575 F.3d 935, 941 (9th Cir. 2009).

Count 1 (and all subcounts)

48. A debt collector may not use any false, deceptive, or misleading representation or means in connection with the collection of any debt. 15 U.S.C. § 1692e. This includes the false representation of the character, amount, or legal status of a debt (§ 1692e(2)), the threat to take any action which cannot be legally taken (§ 1692e(5)); or the use of any false representation or deceptive means to collect or attempt to collect a debt (§ 1692e(10)).

49. Defendant used false, deceptive, or misleading representations or means in connection with the collection of an alleged debt when it:

- a) Demanded amounts that were not owed via phone calls, letters, and e-mails.
- b) Stated that it would unilaterally charge Ms. Villa's credit card without her consent, by obtaining the information from her credit report.
- c) Threatened to lower Ms. Villa's credit score by 50 to 100 points by reporting the alleged debt on her credit.
- d) Threatened to garnish her wages, even though Genesis did not have a judgment with which to facilitate such garnishment.
- e) Threatening to initiate litigation if Ms. Villa did not return a call by a certain time, and then never initiating litigation.

50. Therefore, Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692e, and/or its subsections, on at least seven (7) occasions.

Count 2 (and all subcounts)

51. A debt collector may not use unfair or unconscionable means to collect or attempt to collect any debt. 15 U.S.C. § 1692f.

52. Plaintiff realleges paragraph 49, supra, as constituting unfair and unconscionable means to collect a debt.

53. Additionally, Defendant used unfair and unconscionable means when it:

- a. Called her work phone number on numerous occasions, despite being instructed not to, both verbally and in writing.
- b. Called her cell phone using an auto-dialer, in violation of federal when it had no permission to do so.

54. In summary, the Defendant therefore violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692f and/or § 1692f(1) on numerous occasions.

Counts 3

55. Without prior consent, a debt collector may not communicate with a consumer at

1 the consumer's place of employment if the debt collector knows or has reason to know that the
2 consumer's employer prohibits the consumer from receiving such communication. 15 U.S.C. §
3 1692c(a).

4 56. Genesis contacted Ms. Villas place of work on at least four occasions after being
5 informed verbally and in writing that such calls should not be made to her work.

6 57. Defendant therefore violated 15 U.S.C. §§ 1692c(a) and 1692c(b).

7 Count 4

8 58. If a consumer notifies a debt collector in writing or that the consumer wishes the 9 debt collector to cease further communication with the consumer, the debt collector shall not 10 communicate further with the consumer except under limited exceptions. 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(c).

11 59. Despite being informed in writing that Ms. Villa wanted no further telephone
12 communication, Genesis repeatedly (at least fifteen times) attempted to call Ms. Villa at both her 13 work and cell phone numbers.

14 60. Therefore, Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692c(c) on at least fifteen (15)
15 occasions.

16 Count 5

17 61. A debt collector may not engage in any conduct the natural consequence of which 18 is to harass, oppress, or abuse any person in connection with the collection of a debt. 15 U.S.C.
19 § 1692d. Such conduct includes causing a telephone to ring with intent to annoy, abuse, or 20 harass any person at the called number. Id.

21 62. Despite Ms. Villa's instructions to the contrary, Genesis continued to call her at 22 both work and on her cell phone.

23 63. Often times, Genesis would make multiple calls back to back within minutes of 1 each other.

2 64. This behavior can only be interpreted as intended to annoy, abuse, and harass Ms.
3 Villa.

4 65. Therefore, Defendant violated 15 U.S.C. § 1692d on numerous occasions.

5 Count 6

6 66. If the consumer notifies the debt collector in writing that the debt, or any portion
7 thereof, is disputed, or that the consumer requests the name and address of the original creditor,
8 the debt collector shall cease collection of the debt, or any disputed portion thereof, until the debt
9 collector obtains verification of the debt or a copy of a judgment, or the name and address of the 10 original creditor, and a copy of such verification or judgment, or name and address of the 11 original creditor, is mailed to the consumer by the debt collector. 5 U.S.C. § 1692g(b).

12 67. Erika Villa sent a letter to Genesis on April 4, 2017 disputing the debt and 13 requesting the name and address of the original creditor.

14 68. Genesis received the letter on April 6, 2017.

15 69. Genesis responded to that letter on April 14, 2017 with the required information.

16 70. However, after Genesis received Ms. Villa's dispute, and before Genesis 17 responded, it called her on multiple occasions in violation of the FDCPA.

18 71. Therefore, Defendant violated 5 U.S.C. § 1692g(b) on multiple occasions.

19 Count 7 – Telephone Consumer Protection Act ("TCPA") Violations

20 72. It shall be unlawful for any person within the United States, or any person outside
21 the United States if the recipient is within the United States to make any call using an automatic
22 telephone dialing system or an artificial prerecorded voice to any telephone number assigned to a 23 paging service, cellular telephone service, specialized mobile radio service, or other radio common carrier service, or any service for which the called party is charged for the call. 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A)(iii).

73. Genesis was informed on April 6, 2017 that it did not have permission to call her cell phone.

74. Despite this knowledge, Defendant have made no less than eleven, and probably more, phone calls to Plaintiff's cell phone using an automatic telephone dialing system.

75. Defendant therefore violated 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(1)(A)(iii) on at least eleven (11) occasions.

Count 9 - Injunctive Relief (Telephone Consumer Protection Act)

76. A person or entity who has a claim under the Telephone Consumer Protection act may bring an action based on a violation of 47 U.S.C. § 227 or the regulations prescribed under this subsection to enjoin such violation. 47 U.S.C. § 227(b)(3)(A).

77. Plaintiff does seek injunctive relief from this Court which would enjoin Defendants from making phone calls in the manner described above to both Plaintiff and any other person similarly situated. Id.

78. Specifically, Plaintiff seeks an injunction prohibiting Defendants from their unlawful tactics, including but not limited to making calls to consumers on their cell phones using auto dialers when such permission has not been given, or such permission has been revoked.

79. Plaintiff has reason to believe these actions make up a pattern and practice of behavior and have impacted other individuals similarly situated.

80. Injunctive relief is necessary to prevent further injury to Plaintiff and to the Washington public as a whole.

81. Injunctive relief should therefore issue as described herein.

GENERAL ALLEGATIONS APPLICABLE TO ALL CPA CLAIMS

82. Violations of RCW 19.16.250 are per se violations of the Consumer Protection Act ("CPA"), RCW chapter 19.86.¹ See RCW 19.16.440. RCW 19.86.090 provides for treble damages (to a limit of $25,000) and attorney's fees.

83. Because RCW Chapter 19.16 is enforced through RCW 19.86 et seq., the below counts alleging violations of RCW Chapter 19.16 are therefore CPA violations.

84. Even minimal or nominal damages constitute "injury" under the CPA. Panag, 166 Wn.2d at 57. A plaintiff need not prove any monetary damages at all, as even "unquantifiable damages" suffice to establish "injury" for purposes of the CPA. Id. (citing Nordstrom, Inc. v. Tampourlos, 107 Wn.2d 735, 740 (1987)).

Count 9

85. RCW 19.16.250(21) prohibits the collection, or attempted collection, of any amounts in addition to the principal of a claim other than allowable interest, collection costs, or handling fees expressly authorized by statute, and, in the case of suit, attorney's fees and taxable court costs.

86. Here, Defendant demanded money (by phone, email, and letters) for a "debt" barred by law.

87. Even if some obligation was valid, the Defendant sought amounts which could not be legally collected.

88. Each attempt to collect money from Ms. Villa constitutes a separate attempt to

1 collect the debt.

2 89. Defendant therefore violated RCW 19.16.250(21) upon each debt collection
3 attempt, including but not limited to the telephone calls, the letters, and emails.

4 Count 10

5 90. A collection agency shall not represent or imply that an existing obligation may be 6 increased by the addition of any charges when in fact such charges may not be legally added to the 7 obligation. RCW 19.16.250(15).

8 91. Plaintiff realleges paragraphs 86-88, supra.

9 92. Defendant therefore violated RCW 19.16.250(15) on numerous occasions.

10 Count 11

11 93. A collection agency shall not communicate with a debtor or anyone else in such a
12 manner as to harass, intimidate, threaten, or embarrass a debtor. RCW 19.16.250(13). A 13 communication is presumed to be made for purposes of harassment if a communication is made
14 more than three times in a single week (RCW 19.16.250(13)(a)) or to an employer more than one 15 time in a week (RCW 19.16.250(13)(b)).

16 94. Defendant placed numerous calls to Plaintiff's employer, despite specifically being
17 told not to call that number, in a manner which was designed to intimidate and frighten Ms. Villa
18 into paying an illegitimate debt.

19 95. Furthermore, Defendant called Ms. Villa's place of employment more than once in 20 a single week on at least three (3) occasions, and called her more than three times in a single week
21 on at least three (3) occasions.

22 96. Defendants therefore violated RCW 19.16.250(13).

23 Count 12

97. Upon the request of a debtor, a collection agency shall provide the name of the original creditor to whom the debtor owed the claim to the debtor or cease efforts to collect on the debt until this information is provided. RCW 19.16.250(8)(b).

98. Erika Villa sent a letter to Genesis on April 4, 2017 disputing the debt and requesting the name and address of the original creditor.

99. Genesis received the letter on April 6, 2017.

100. Genesis responded to that letter on April 14, 2017 with the required information.

101. However, after Genesis received Ms. Villa's dispute, and before Genesis responded, it called her on multiple occasions in violation of the FDCPA.

102. Therefore, Defendant violated RCW 19.16.250(8)(b) on multiple occasions.

Count 13

103. A collection agency shall not threaten the debtor with impairment of his or her credit rating if a claim is not paid. RCW 19.16.250(11).

104. On a phone call to Ms. Villa, Genesis specifically threatened to impair Ms. Villa's credit rating if the alleged claim was not paid.

105. Genesis even went as far as to specify exactly how damaging such reporting would be to Ms. Villa's credit, identifying a 50-100 point drop. This, of course, caused great concern to Ms. Villa.

106. Defendant therefore violated RCW 19.16.250(11).

Count 14

107. A debt collector shall not intentionally block its telephone number from displaying a debtor's telephone. RCW 19.16.250(19).

108. On information and belief, on at least four occasions Genesis called Ms. Villa using

1 an alternate phone number to induce her into answering the phone.

2 109. Therefore, Defendant violated RCW 19.16.250(19) on at least four (4) occasions.

3 Count 15

4 110. A collection agency may not threaten to take any action against the debtor which 5 the collection agency cannot legally take. RCW 19.16.250(16).

6 111. Genesis, however, threatened to charge Ms. Villa's credit card without permission
7 in order to satisfy the alleged debt.

8 112. Genesis also threatened to garnish Ms. Villa's wages when it had no legal ability to 9 do so.

10 113. Genesis therefore violated RCW 19.16.2540(16) on at least two (2) occasions.

11 Count 16 – Injunctive Relief

12 114. A plaintiff may seek injunctive relief for violations of the Consumer Protection
13 Act. RCW 19.86.090.

14 115. Plaintiff does seek injunctive relief from this Court which would enjoin
15 Defendant from collecting debts in the manner described above from both Plaintiff and any other 16 person similarly situated. Scott v. Cingular Wireless, 160 Wn. 2d 843, 853 (2007).

17 116. Specifically, Plaintiff seeks an injunction prohibiting Defendant from its unlawful 18 collection tactics, including but not limited to demanding money that is not owed, and engaging 19 in such behavior as calling debtors with unreasonable frequency and despite being instructed not 20 to call.

21 117. Plaintiff has reason to believe these actions make up a pattern and practice of 22 behavior and have impacted other individuals similarly situated.

23 118. Injunctive relief is necessary to prevent further injury to Plaintiff and to the Washington public as a whole.

119. Injunctive relief should therefore issue as described herein.

IV. PRAYER FOR RELIEF

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays:

1. For Judgment against Defendant for actual damages.
2. For statutory damages of $1,000.00, for FDCPA violations.
3. For statutory damages of $500 per violation, for Telephone Consumer Protection Act violations.
4. For statutory damages of $2,000.00 per violation, for Washington Collection Agency Act and Consumer Protection Act violations.
5. For treble damages, pursuant to RCW 19.86.090, calculated from the damages determined by the court.
6. For costs and reasonable attorney's fees as determined by the Court pursuant to 15 U.S.C. 1692k(a)(3).
7. For injunctive relief pursuant to 47 U.S.C. § 227 as described above.
8. For injunctive relief pursuant to RCW 19.86.090 as described above.

Respectfully submitted this 28th day of April, 2017.

The following percentages assume the unit was fully painted and/or carpet was new when the resident moved in. You will need to adjust the following percentages if that is not the case. If the carpet/appliance was not new at move in, the tenant is only responsible for remaining unused useful life of the carpet or appliance we did not receive because of abnormal wear and tear. Always use the move-in inspection report as a guide. Ask your regional manager for assistance if needed.
